Our Vocation to Beatitude

“The beatitudes we are promised confronts us with decisive moral choices. It invites us to purify our hearts of bad instincts and to seek the love of God above all else. It teaches us that true happiness is not found in riches or well being, in human fame or power, or in any human achievement—however beneficial it may be—such as science, technology, and art, or indeed in any creature, but in God alone, the source of every good and of all love:

All bow down before wealth. Wealth is that to which the multitude of men pray an instinctive homage. They measure happiness by wealth; and by wealth they measure respectability....It is a homage resulting from a profound faith...that with wealth he may do all things. Wealth is one idol of the day and notoriety is a second....Notoriety, or the making of a noise in the world— it may be called “newspaper fame”— has come to be considered a great good in itself, and a ground of veneration.” (CCC 1723)

Evangelization Clip by Deacon Jim Schiltz

Today is Divine Mercy Sunday. Not even all the good actions we do in this life will, by themselves, make us worthy of heaven. Jesus paid for all our "passes" to heaven with His death on the Cross. Jesus taught us about mercy with such parables of the forgiving father of his prodigal son. God, our Father, is merciful to us. Our response to God's mercy is to show mercy to people who are in need around us. The Catholic Church has identified Corporal Works of Mercy. We feed the hungry and clothe the needy with contributions to charitable organizations in our town. The Church also has identified Spiritual Works of Mercy. These include instructing people who are uninformed or unaware of a moral way to live their lives. We can help people who doubt God's love and presence. When people offend us, we must be patient and forgive willingly. Jesus is our model for performing Works of Mercy.

Are you discerning the priesthood?

Gifted and Called is a discernment opportunity sponsored by the Office of Priestly Vocations. Each month, young men (ages 16 – 35) are invited to gather and discern God's will for their lives.

Time for prayer and reflection will be held monthly on the 2nd floor of Cathedral Square Center from 4 -5 p.m.

The next Gifted and Called discernment opportunity this year will be on Sunday, May 5.

Feel free to show up or call to let us know you are coming at 616-288-0910.

Questions, email Fr. Ron Hutchinson (rhutchinson@dioceseofgrandrapids.org) or Fr. Stephen Durkee (sdurkee@dioceseofgrandrapids.org)

*For the sake of his sorrowful passion,
have mercy on us and on the whole world.*

- perform the indulgenced work (see below)

The Work for this Specific Indulgence, performed on Divine Mercy Sunday:

- in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament, exposed or reserved in the tabernacle, recite the Our Father, the Creed, and a devout prayer to the merciful Lord Jesus (e.g. "Merciful Jesus, I trust in you!")
- or, in any church or chapel, in a spirit that is completely detached from the affection for sin, even venial sin, take part in the prayers and devotions held in honor of Divine Mercy
